Was: The ÖH Uni Wien is organizing a BIPoC only Creative Writing Workshop! This interactive workshop is going to be a safe space, free of judgement for BIPoC of every age, gender, and education level to participate in. The Vienna based South African actor and film maker Lukhanyo „Luks“ Bele will guide you through the workshop and share with you his knowledge and his experience on writing. Be it stories, poems, songs or plays, whichever way you choose to express yourself in, Luks will be there to encourage you, share some tips and tricks, and guide you through the process.

There is a creative side within all of us and this workshop wants to open a space for your creative self to be seen and listened to.

This Zoom Workshop will take place online on Monday the 7th of February from 11am to 1pm. It will be held in English but speaking or writing in German isn't discouraged
